

The Fog

Based on the poem "Im Nebel" by Herrman Hesse

Lyrics:

Strange - walking in the fog
Lonely every tree and stone
No tree sees no other in the smog
Everyone is all alone

The World full of friends was calling
When my life was light and clear
Now while the fog is falling
No one is near

No one is truly wise
Who doesn't know the dark sides
That inescapable quietly rise
Be divided from the lights

Strange - walking in the fog
Life means on its own
Know no other in the smog
Everyone is all alone

Strange - walking in the fog
No one is near
Strange - walking in the fog
No one is near

No one is near

Moon you pale divine
Black is your home
Silence in your shine
You glow alone

Moon you cold divine
Your light is not your own
Reflection of past time
You are just a stone

Moon you old divine
Pale as bone
Your distant sign
You glow alone
